

COLLABORATING TO CREATE CHANGE

Drive meaningful change in suicide prevention

A workshop for the LGBTIQ+ community

Collaborating to Create Change has been designed for lived experience of suicide advocates and representatives wanting to further develop the knowledge and skills required to effectively contribute to suicide prevention reform across the full spectrum of opportunities to create change.

It provides participants with an opportunity to (individually and collectively) explore, and reflect on, the unique challenges of working in collaboration with a diverse range of stakeholders, including navigating complex power dynamics and remaining connected to the core purpose of lived experience work: improving outcomes for people and communities affected by suicide.

This workshop has been designed specifically for people in LGBTIQ+ communities who have lived experience of suicide. Drawing on the lived expertise of the LGBTIQ+ community and the assistance of community organisations ACON and Switchboard, the workshop is facilitated by advocates with deep community experience and draws on our rich culture and history to explore lived experience of suicide advocacy especially from the perspective of the LGBTIQ+ community.

When considering this opportunity, please read 'Readiness to be involved in suicide prevention' to support you to make an informed decision.

Workshop details:

Date	Wednesday 8 th May Friday 10 th May Wednesday 29 th May
Time	9:30 - 2:00pm QLD AEST
Location	Online

How do I register?

To register to attend, click on the QR Code, or scan it with your smart device camera. A Roses in the Ocean team member will be in touch with further information. If you require assistance or have any questions, please call us on 1300 411 461.

This workshop is led and facilitated by Roses in the Ocean and is supported by the Australian Department of Health for the Access and Equity Project

Australian Government
Department of Health

